FRONTEND DEVELOPER

I am an experienced web developer currently working on a high-profile project at Globant. My expertise lies in frontend development with Angular and React, and I am equally proficient in backend technologies like C# .NET and Node.js, as well as mobile development with Flutter.

I pride myself on being a quick learner and a collaborative team player. Throughout my career, I have consistently demonstrated reliability, organization, and creativity, always willing to support my colleagues and go the extra mile to achieve team goals.

SKILLS
